DANIELSON

Mrs. Natalie M. Stone to Try for Divorce Again—War Reduces Price of Skunk Pelts—Brown Students at East Killingly—Letter From England Received by Agent Robert W. Boys.

Dr. and Mrs. Riehl Robinson have closed their home here. They leave for Sumnerville, S. C. and other southern points for the winter. James Kent of Elmville guided a party that got two big coons in a Saturday night hunt. William H. Seyles has an expert chicken picker at work at his Elm Vale farm. Frank C. Johnson of Meriden was a visitor with friends in Danielson Monday.

Will Attend Game

George S. Brown, Benjamin Brown, Dr. O. C. Shuter and Walter Ames will attend the Yale-Harvard game at New Haven Saturday. Miss Hilda Roberts is acting as substitute teacher for Miss Annie Day in the East Brooklyn school. Martin Shedd of Norwich spent Sunday with friends in Danielson. The house plunged into darkness during the storm of Sunday night, on account of trouble with the lighting system, proved to everyone that the lights are worth all they cost from year to year.

Another Try for Divorce

Mrs. Natalie May Stone of East Killingly is to renew her efforts for a divorce. The case was heard at Putnam last Friday, but temporarily dismissed.

The discovery of cases of foot and mouth disease among herds of cattle in the Hartford district has stirred farmers hereabouts considerably, but no cases have been heard of in this part of the state.

War Makes Skunk Pelts Cheaper

Wildcat Lavallo of South street has about 200 skunks on his farm this year, penned in a side-hill area that is to their liking. On account of the war in Europe, the pelts are bringing only about one-third of last year's prices, Mr. Lavallo says.

Canadian Relative at the Front

Many Canadians in the villages of Killingly have relatives in the Dominion contingent sent abroad to fight for England's cause a few weeks ago, and the report that regiments of this unit of the British forces have suffered heavy casualties in the fighting in Flanders is disturbing here.

Members of the town school committee from Danielson were at Williamsville Monday afternoon for the inspection of the new school building, and in the evening for the exercises held at the village church to mark the opening of the school.

BROWN STUDENTS

Entertained at the Mason Homestead for the Week-End

A score of Brown university students were week-end guests at the Mason homestead in East Killingly. They were given a hunting trip through Connecticut and Rhode Island border territory, getting 13 rabbits and two fat coons, the latter late Saturday night. East Killingly's reservoir section rounded with Brown cheers and songs when the announcement of the outcome of the Harvard-Brown football game was received by telephone.

COL. GASTON'S IDEA

Has Long Urged Acquisition of South American Trade

Colonel William A. Gaston of Boston, whose ancestral home is at South Killingly, was one of the first, years ago, to forward the idea of securing the trade of South American countries, a proposition that is at this time receiving the most careful attention. It was years ago, too, that he felt convinced that much of this country's failure to secure the trade of South America was due to the fact that we did not understand the laws, the languages, the credit systems and the methods of those countries as well as German and English competitors. Giving practical attention to means of overcoming these handicaps, Colonel Gaston has for years borne the expense of sending each year two boys from Boston High school to South America to study the trade problems there for the benefit of their own country. These boys are always the brightest in the class and win the honor they receive in competition with their fellow students. This movement, having in it such great possibilities for good, has since been copied in a number of American cities.

ENGLAND CHEERFUL

Facing Winter in a Friendly Country With Good Hope—Letter Tells of Improving Conditions.

Agent Robert W. Boys of the mill at Williamsville has received another interesting letter from a personal friend at Gorton, England. The letter deals principally with the effects of war upon England and is very interesting. Some excerpts are as follows:

"The incidents which have happened on the sea where our brave fellows have gone down have in no way affected the general spirit, except to make us more bitter and keen for revenge on an enemy who resorts to lastingly and cowardly tactics. They have now sown mines in neutral waters where any nation's shipping may be destroyed.

"I had the good fortune to go through the dockyard at Chatham, and over one of the warships which took a prominent part in the Heligoland fight. We had the story of the fight from one of the officers who went through it, and it was extremely interesting. They have no nerves or fear for their lives, and are only anxious to have an opportunity for a scrap. The dockyard was like a beehive. They are working day and night on ships, guns and submarines. After discussing the long-drawn-out battle of the Alsne, the letter goes on: 'We are not short of men, as some of those who were in the earlier fighting have been allowed home for rest. Evidently our generals have got the measure of them (Germans) and have strong reinforcements for a final German dash, if it is attempted. Evidently Kitchener thinks there is an immediate hurry and is reserving his forces. My impression is they do not want to drive the Germans over the frontier just yet. Our army is in a good position with a railway system at its back and every facility for transport and communication. If the weather becomes severe it is much better to have winter quarters in a friendly country than in the enemy's country; further, it seems to be good policy to keep the Germans attacking.'"

"Trade is improving, money is again free and plentiful, and considering our vast amount of shipping, we have lost only a very small fraction." The writer tells of traveling, early this month, to London with Premier Asquith and sets down in his letter that the great English statesman looked extremely well and appeared quite free from care and worry. The letter sets forth that England is counting strongly on American sympathy.

RAIN WELCOMED

But Much More is Hoped for Before Freezing Time

There were many expressions of thanksgiving in Danielson Monday for the rain of the preceding night and of the day. The shortage of water had become such an aggravated matter as to be the direct cause of considerable monetary losses and of great inconvenience. Employees in manufacturing plants have felt the results of the dropping of the level of the rivers in short hours and reduced pay. As one swallow does not make a summer, neither does one rain storm completely relieve the situation that has been so long complained of, but it helps. Much more rain is needed and unless it comes before freezing weather sets in, many especially farmers, will be facing a condition that gives them good cause for worry.

PUTNAM

Elks Secure Lodge of Sorrow Orator—Death of Calvin Nichols—Chicken Supper for Pomfret Progressives—Miss Margaret Foley to Address Equal Franchise Meeting.

Miss Bernice Gahan is entertaining Miss Helen Ryan of Webster. Henry E. Church of Hartford was a visitor here Monday.

Miss Marion V. Bennett of Waterbury was a Sunday visitor with Putnam friends.

Harmon Appeal Case Today. Judge Joel H. Reed presiding, the trial of the Harmon appeal from probate will be resumed in the superior court here today.

John Keith, who has been making his home here, has gone to New York to live with relatives. Two prisoners arrested in Pomfret were kept in the local police station until their trial in the nearby town Monday morning.

Handsome Pews Installed.

Members of St. Mary's parish are delighted with the beautiful new pews that have been placed in the church, another of the improvements brought about during the pastorate of Rev. Charles F. Bedard.

A large delegation from Pomfret school expects to be at New Haven Saturday for the Yale-Harvard game. Pomfret school sends many graduates to these universities.

Representatives-elect Mayor Archibald Macdonald and Joseph Plessis seem certain of fine committee appointments during the coming season as they were members of the house in 1913, and have the experience that entitles them to consideration in the giving out of places.

City Court Cases.

Four cases were disposed of in the city court Monday morning, two of the prisoners being sent to jail to serve sentences of 30 days each, one being sentenced for intoxication, the other for vagrancy. Two other prisoners escaped with light fines.

OBITUARY.

Calvin Nichols. Calvin Nichols, 63, died at his home in the Sawyer district Sunday. He has been a resident of this town for 55 years. His health has been poor for some time and only recently he returned from a Worcester hospital. He leaves his wife and one son, Charles O. Nichols.

FUNERAL.

Adelard Benoit. The funeral of Adelard Benoit was held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Victoria Benoit, Livery street, Monday, with services at St. Mary's church, Rev. Charles F. Bedard being celebrant of the requiem mass, which was attended by many relatives and friends.

The fact that you can get your money back after a 30 days' trial and are permitted to exchange at any time within one year, is PROOF CONCLUSIVE of the high character of these pianos.

Here is the CONVINCING proof that these pianos at $266 are everything you would have in a piano

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

You know what "convincing" proof is?

"Convincing" proof is that proof which satisfies you by evidence.

"Convincing" proof is that proof which causes you to believe.

The proof that The Autopiano Co. gives on these pianos, is "convincing" proof.

Pay attention to this.

The Autopiano Co. have instructed us to furnish each and every purchaser of one of these pianos or player-pianos during this sale, with a written agreement, agreeing to exchange the instrument they select at any time during the first year, from date of purchase, for any cause whatsoever, without cost or expense to the purchaser.

We will carry this out to the letter.

This is what we call substantial "convincing" proof.

A year's use of one of these pianos or player-pianos in your home, is either convincing or it is not convincing as to its real, intrinsic value. You are either better convinced as to its value or lack of value with a year's use, than anything The Autopiano Co. could say or anything we could say.

If you are convinced that the instrument is everything we say it is, you naturally will keep it.

If you are not convinced, you may exchange it.

Strong evidence, isn't it?

Hon. Edward A. Thurston of Fall River, Orator for Lodge of Sorrow.

Hon. Edward A. Thurston of Fall River is to deliver the address at the annual lodge of sorrow of Putnam Elks to be held in their home, the first Sunday in December. An orchestra and quartet are to assist in the giving of the program now being arranged by a committee of the organization.

Moore Leaders Eat Chicken.

At the Putnam Inn Monday evening Landlord E. C. Rogers served a special chicken dinner at 8 o'clock for a party of progressives from Pomfret and vicinity who were gathered to celebrate their successes in that town in the recent election.

Raymond Teal Company Makes a Hit.

At the Bradley theater Monday afternoon the Raymond Teal Musical Comedy company made itself solid with a fair sized audience by giving a very pleasing presentation of a fanciful piece entitled Panny Moon and repeated the success in the evening. The company gave one of the best shows seen in Putnam for the money, probably better than any musical show of the grade that has been here. They are not a company of burlesquers, but a musical company, giving clean and laughable productions. James Leo, the funny man, proved very popular, and Raymond Teal's songs were very well received. The chorus is good looking and the Raymond Teal Musical Comedy company is a company of competent players.

Miss Margaret Foley to Speak. Members of the Putnam Equal Franchise League are very much pleased over their success in securing Miss Margaret Foley of Boston to speak at a meeting to be held in Odd Fellows' hall Friday evening of this week, this through special arrangement with the Massachusetts Equal Franchise League.

Miss Foley is one of the most renowned of the suffrage speakers of New England. She has but recently returned from Nevada, where she was actively engaged for two months in the campaign that culminated in the election of November 3, and made Nevada an "equal" state. She is a unique figure in the woman suffrage movement in this country. She has been a worker and for many years has been a member of the East Trimmers' union of America. A student of voice culture and of music and gifted with an exceptional degree of logic, Miss Foley combines her natural and acquired talents in a manner that has won her fame on the speaker's platform. The meeting at which Miss Foley is to speak here is to be public and all the members of the local organization are inviting their friends to be present.

City Notes.

Israel Putnam lodge of Odd Fellows is to confer the second degree upon a class of candidates this (Tuesday) evening.

The rainfall in Putnam in the storm of Sunday night and Monday morning was just short of an inch.

Frank A. Paris of Fall River was a visitor with friends in Putnam Monday.

Germans Not Stopping Belgian Supplies

Washington, Nov. 16.—Ambassador Page at London today cabled a denial of the report that the German military authorities in Belgium were stopping the shipment of food for needy Belgians. The ambassador said there has been no interference and that the German military authorities were giving useful assistance.

LIST OF SELECTED FOODS

FOR WAR SUFFERERS

Prepared by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley—Divided Into Three Classes

Washington, Nov. 16.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley has prepared a list of selected foods for European war sufferers as a suggestion to Americans who wish to contribute supplies to the relief cause. The list is suggested as the most effective for shipping and distribution purposes. It is divided into three classes, one for infants and young children; one for convalescents and another for well adults.

A package for infants and young children should include 30 pounds of evaporated milk; 15 pounds of malted milk; 15 pounds of barley flour; five pounds of Indian corn meal; five pounds of oatmeal and two ounces of salt. This will sustain from 200 to 250 infants or young children for one day.

For packages for convalescents, the following is recommended: Fifteen pounds of evaporated milk; 15 pounds of malted milk; one-pound can of olive or cottonseed oil; two pounds of canned chicken; five pounds of brown rice; seven pounds of whole wheat or white flour; three pounds of sugar; two pounds of tea and six ounces of salt. It is estimated that this will sustain from 100 to 150 convalescents for one day.

A package for well adults should contain: Five pounds of canned baked beans; eight pounds of dried lentils, peas or beans; five pounds of canned salmon; five pounds of oatmeal; five pounds of corn meal; 15 pounds of whole wheat or white flour; two pounds of sugar and six ounces of salt. This will furnish a sustaining ration for 50 adults for one day.

It is recommended that the supplies be packed in 50-pound boxes, as it is difficult for Red Cross nurses to handle more weighty ones.
